A hand in a yellow sleeve is shown making a peace sign (V-sign) against a background split diagonally into yellow and blue. The hand is positioned in the center-right of the frame, with the index and middle fingers extended upwards and outwards, and the thumb tucked in. The sleeve is bright yellow and appears to be made of a textured fabric. The background is a solid yellow on the top-left and a solid blue on the bottom-right, separated by a diagonal line.
